

Theory-practice transfer

First reviewer: Dr. phil. Patrick Hedfeld

Second reviewer: Prof. Dr. Dieter Litzinger

by Meshan Fernando

Student number: 617993

© FOM University of Economics & Management non-profit organization mbH (FOM), Leimkugelstraße 6, 45141 Essen

This work is protected by copyright and is for personal use only FOM events are determined.

The rights established by the authorship (including reproduction, distribution, translation, Reprint) remains reserved to the author.

The work or parts of it may not be used without the written permission of the author/FOM reproduced or processed, duplicated or distributed using electronic systems become. This also includes uploading to social media or other digital platforms.

1	About me
2	motivation
3	theory ↔ Practice
4	Competence development
5	Conclusion & outlook

1. About me

- Software developer at Valantic STI
- Working in software development since 2016
- Part-time study of business informatics at the FOM
- Focus: software development, digital Information systems and customer advice

2. Motivation

- Personal challenge
- Professional development
- Combining theory and practice
- Get to know new ways of thinking
- Expand long-term career prospects

Software Engineering

4. Skill development

Professional skills

- Software development
- Databases
- Scientific work
- Research

Methodological skills

- Analytical thinking
- Structured problem solving
- Project work

Personal skills

- Perseverance
- Self-organization
- Time management
- Independent learning

5. Conclusion & Outlook

My personal conclusion

- Theory and practice complement each other.
- The course has my professional and personal interests Skills expanded.
- Particularly interested in AI and digital information systems developed.
- Long-term goal:
 - AI
 - automation
 - own company

A background image of two business professionals shaking hands in a modern office setting. The image is overlaid with a light blue grid pattern. Several circular icons are scattered across the image: a person in a hard hat (top center), a person in a suit (top right), a person in a hard hat (bottom center), a person in a hard hat (bottom left), and a person in a hard hat (bottom right).

Thank you for your attention!

Do you have anymore questions?